INJUNCTION ATTACKED

Senator Robinson Declares It Violates Constitution and Clayton Trust Act

New York, Sept. 6.—Initiation of proceedings for the impeachment of Attorney General Daugherty and Federal Judge Wilkinson of Chicago on the ground that the strike injunction granted by the latter at the former's request was in violation of the constitution, was urged on Senator Robinson in a telegram despatched today by John J. Dowd, chairman of General Strike Committee of the eastern shopmen.

ATTACKS INJUNCTION.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The injunction obtained by the government against the striking railway shopmen was declared today in the senate by Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, to be violative of both the constitution and the Clayton Anti-Trust act.

The Arkansas senator declared that the injunction "abridged freedom of speech, and of the press and the right of people peaceably to assemble." He argued also that it violated the section of the Clayton act, which he said implied "that laborers may organize an act in concert for the purpose of mutual help without the risk of prosecution under anti-trust laws."

Senator Robinson charged that the federal court exceeded its authority in issuing the temporary restraining order and declared that the "alleged advantages" to be derived from the order "are more than offset by the permanent impairment of the reputation of the federal judiciary for integrity and impartiality which must result from such an unwarranted assumption of authority."

MEETING PLANNED

(By the Associated Press) Chicago, Sept. 6.—Union officials at the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor today continued to deny the published reports that a meeting of the policy committee had been summoned to meet tomorrow in connection with peace moves in the railroad shopmen's strike.

Intimation that there possibly would be a meeting of union chiefs in the east was given by John Scott, secretary of railway employees' department but he would give no definite information. Asked if the policy committee were on their way to Chicago, Mr. Scott said:

"They are going the other way." He said B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees' department had not returned from the east. Mr. Jewell's whereabouts have been a mystery since the government obtained an injunction last Friday against any interference by the strikers with the railroad.

Mr. Scott at union headquarters intimated that the movement of union leaders today to the east included only heads of the six striking shop crafts. He indicated that no meeting of the full policy committee had been called.

TO HOLD CONFERENCE

(By the Associated Press) Chicago, Sept. 6.—Seven representatives of the striking Federated Shop Crafts were declared by John Scott, Secretary of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor to be in Baltimore today for a conference with railroad executives on a proposition to end the strike.

PROFESSED IGNORANCE

(By the Associated Press) Baltimore, Sept. 6.—Officials at the Baltimore and Ohio general offices here who stand close to President Daniel Willard and Vice President Charles W. Galloway, professed ignorance of the presence there of representatives of the striking shop men or of any proposition from them looking to the settlement of the strike. Mr. Galloway was said to be in the city during the forenoon, but could not be reached for an expression on the Chicago dispatch.

A FEW INDIVIDUALS

(By the Associated Press) New York, Sept. 6.—If any conference is being held in Baltimore between striking shopmen and railway heads, it involves only a few individual roads and does not look toward settlement of the strike on a national wide basis, it was said today, at headquarters of the Association of Railway Executives.

NONE INJURED

(By the Associated Press) Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 6.—Deputies of the Southern Railway Royal Palm Limited bound for Cincinnati, just outside the railroad yards here last night, resulted from the activities of wreckers, local officials of the Southern announced today. Several cars of the train left the rails but remained upright. No one was injured.

"FISH" HASSELL AND ART MC CARTY, STUNT AIRMEN, FLY HERE FROM MITCHELL

B. R. J. Hassell, commonly known as "Fish" Hassell, Pat McCarty, stunt flier of the Royal Air Service in France and "Jimmie" Lantz, Hastings, Neb., hopped into Bismarck yesterday afternoon following a 300-mile air flight from Mitchell S. D. They left the South Dakota city at 12:05 Tuesday and landed here at 3:45 the same day.

"Fish" Hassell is a brother of H. G. Hassell of Bismarck, and when he found that he was within 300 miles from relatives induced his companions to make the flight with him. An effort is being made to have the aviators do some stunt flying to advertise the Bismarck Pageant. It is believed that some spectacular flying over the state would bring this event before the people as no other kind of publicity could.

Lieutenant in Service. B. R. J. Hassell was a lieutenant in the air force during the war and earned his title when he was dropped into the water a long ways from

40 MEN ARE ENTOMBED IN COAL MINE

Whitehaven, England, Sept. 6.—Twenty-five bodies had been recovered this morning from the coal pit in which forty men were entombed by an explosion yesterday.

Heavy falls of rock and the presence of much gas are hampering the rescue squads and it is feared the pit will have to be sealed as was the case was 138 workers were lost in a neighboring mine in 1910.

Tragic scenes are being enacted at the pit head where the women relatives of the entombed miners are gathered.

Draw Forms for Distribution

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 6.—The central coal committee of the Northwest states was in session here again today, drawing up the forms that will be used in the distribution of coal from the head of the Lakes. The forms will be distributed throughout Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin, and all applications for coal will be handled through the central committee sitting with C. P. White, federal fuel distributor for the Northwest.

Donald D. Conn, chairman of the Northwest Washington coal committee will return to the capitol tonight, to renew efforts for Northwest priority. Mr. Conn declared today that the step toward conservation will doubtless be of material aid to him in presenting the case of the Northwest before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Mr. White announced today that the prospects on the Lakes look the brightest of any time this season. The Lake Erie docks, he said, have the largest supply of the year now on hand and a large additional number of boats are now being thrown into the coal traffic.

Governors of the state represented at the conference yesterday, are expected to issue proclamations soon calling on the people of their respective states to conserve coal as nearly as possible on a war time basis.

Irregular Leader Is Killed in Skirmish

Dublin, Sept. 6.—The irregular leader Daniel Shinnock, holding the rank of brigadier adjutant, was killed in a skirmish yesterday near Mitchelstown on the Cork-Limerick border. The fight which lasted two hours, was the sequel to a surprise attack upon a large body of irregulars engaged in preparing an ambush. The irregulars who fled to the hills after suffering many casualties. Twelve prisoners and a large supply of arms and ammunition were left in the hands of the government forces.

Grant Charter to Legion Members in South Dakota Pen

Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 6.—Harold Mason Post of American Legion is believed by local legion officials to have established a precedent when at a meeting last night it voted to adopt a resolution granting a charter to veterans of the World War who are now inmates of the South Dakota penitentiary. Adoption of the resolution came after considerable discussion.

There are approximately 100 former service men now serving terms at the South Dakota penitentiary according to those sponsoring the movement to charter a post there. During the discussion of the resolution, many members went on record as favoring a post for inmates of the prison because of the rehabilitation work that such an organization might do among the convicts.

INJUNCTION NO THREAT AT ANY RIGHTS

So Declares Attorney General Daugherty upon Return to Washington

RAIL POLICY FIXED

Rail Heads and Strike Leaders Deny Rumors of a Settlement

(By the Associated Press) Washington, Sept. 6.—A determination to prevent interference with interstate commerce but to press no interpretation of the injunction granted the government against the striking railway shop men that would abridge personal liberty or freedom of speech or the press was the policy upon which the federal administration was proceeding today in following up the injunction action.

That there would be no use of the injunction to abridge these constitutional rights was stated on his return to the capitol by Attorney General Daugherty who added: "Freedom of speech and freedom of press does not mean these mediums may be used to incite riots or murders." His statement followed declarations by a White House spokesman that President Harding felt the injunction raised no threat against the constitutional rights of the men on strike. It was added that it would be used firmly to prevent interference with transportation, with the extent of any necessary prosecutions under the injunction to be determined by events. With the injunction apparently representing a definitely settled policy in regard to the rail situation, the government was further concentrating its attention today on the problem of coal distribution, particularly in the light of the virtual settlement of the anthracite tie-up.

Hopeful of Vote.

In the senate, leaders were hopeful a vote would be reached today on the administration anti-professing coal bill. An amendment was adopted during its consideration yesterday limiting the life of the measure to six months. Several other proposed amendments remained to be disposed of today.

DENY RUMORS.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Leaders of the railway shopmen strike and railroad executives were in accord today in denying of published reports that there was a new move on foot to settle the strike.

Inference that Bert M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts organization, who had been absent from strike headquarters since the government's strike injunction was granted by Judge Wilkerson last Friday, had been in conference in Baltimore with Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad was contradicted by Mr. Willard.

With rail heads asserting they knew of no new peace moves, John Scott, secretary and J. F. McGrath, vice president of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor, denied a call had been issued from headquarters for a meeting of the union's policy committee here tomorrow.

Other union officials declined to reveal the whereabouts of Mr. Jewell since he dropped out of sight last Friday.

Mr. McGrath declared rumors of a contemplated meeting of the policy committee Thursday was part of a plot to deceive the shopmen.

Strike conditions generally were reported quiet throughout the country.

Ten men, all of whom were said by police to be striking shopmen, were held at Memphis, Tenn., in connection with recent disorders. All of the ten, the police said, have made confessions bearing on the killing of Charles H. Lanier, a non-union shop employee of the Pfco system, a plot to waylay a foreman, an attempt to wreck a passenger train near Memphis, and the saving of two negro employees of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific at Hultbert, Arkansas.

Lanier was shot from ambush, but in their alleged confessions the men said he was killed by mistake, their intention being to frighten his companion, Charles Stevens, a Friend shop foreman.

Many Refugees Gather at Smyrna

Smyrna, Sept. 6.—It was estimated up to last night that 150,000 refugees of every nationality had collected here and the American relief committee has published an appeal calling upon everybody to offer them assistance.

The Allied consuls here decided to ask the Anglo-French police to keep order in the town. It is reported that Allied troops will land here tomorrow.

LA FOLLETTE WINS BY BIG PRIMARY VOTE

Entire Ticket Sponsored by Him Decisively Overcomes Opponents in Wisconsin

HARDING IS AN ISSUE

Policies of Administration Featured in Campaign Addresses

(By the Associated Press) Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 6.—Indications early today were that Senator Robert M. La Follette had been overwhelmingly renominated in yesterday's primary election over W. A. Canfield of Waukesha, as republican candidate for United States senator at the November election.

Governor John J. Blaine and the entire La Follette state ticket are also making a remarkable run with one exception. Out of 1,409 precincts reporting Blaine obtained 172,880; Morgan 81,568; McHenry 8,871. A close contest has developed between Governor Blaine, La Follette candidate for state treasurer, and Henry Johnson, incumbent, Levan, who is leading by 4,300 in 892 precincts, is making his third attempt to defeat his opponent who is now serving his sixth term.

According to the returns it appears that the people of this state endorse the issues which La Follette has advocated at Washington and upon which he sought renomination. These were: opposition to the Esch-Cummings act; Newberryism, the Four Power treaty, and his opposition to the policies of President Harding.

Harding an Issue

Canfield was the candidate of the citizens republican conference which had the backing of Senator Irvine L. Lenroot, Wisconsin junior senator. He was supported also by the anti-saloon league which asserted that the fight in Wisconsin this year was the "most important wet and dry election in the United States." Mr. Canfield made more than 300 speeches during the campaign in which he asked La Follette's retirement from public life because, he said, the senior Wisconsin senator is an obstructionist in congress and as such is of no use to his state in the upper house. Mr. Canfield also charged La Follette with being reckless in his tendencies.

Returns from 815 precincts show that the entire La Follette state ticket decisively overcame its opponents by large majorities with the exception of Solomon Levan, who, while leading, is in a close race for treasurer against Henry Johnson, incumbent. Levan's lead is by no means decisive. Johnson has been treasurer for six successive terms.

Of the present congressmen who sought renomination, H. A. Cooper in the first; Wm. H. Stafford in the fifth; J. D. Beck in the seventh, and N. E. Browne in the eighth, have been successful.

The anti-saloon league and the association against the prohibition amendment, also took active part in the congressional campaign. Of the congressmen renominated, Stafford and Beck were supported by the vets, while Browne and Cooper were classed as drys.

What promises to be the largest majority ever given a candidate in a primary election in Wisconsin was being rolled up today by Senator Robert M. La Follette as a result of yesterday's primary.

With something like more than half of the precincts in the state reporting, indications were that La Follette's majority would exceed 150,000 over W. A. Canfield of Waukesha, Wis., in his contest for the Republican United States senatorial nomination.

Returns from 1,415 precincts out of 2,523 gave La Follette 188,068, Canfield 76,508. La Follette's vote is tremendous and it is apparent that women flocked to his banner in sufficient numbers to make possible the overwhelming lead.

TO CLOSE MILL

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 6.—The Russell-Miller flour mill here will be closed for at least two weeks as the result of an accident when a switch engine and some heavily loaded cars crashed into the belt house which connects the main plant.

The cars crashed entirely through the building, breaking the mill thirty-six inch belt which drives the machinery in both buildings, and crashing the belt house itself upon three automobiles that were standing, parked on the street.

That no one was injured is considered a miracle by officers and employees of the mill. Two men had just passed through the house and were within ten feet of the building when the cars crashed through it. The Northern Pacific works to clear the wreckage, but the house will have to be rebuilt and new beltting secured before the mill can reopen. It is considered that this will take at least two weeks. The greatest loss will be in the shutdown of the mill.

Relatives of Mrs. Agnes Clark, Omaha, Neb., (above) and Miss Ellen McKinnon, Sun Prairie, Wis., say they are the oldest living women twins in the United States. They were born 92 years ago at Inverness, Scotland.

MINERS' FATE TO BE KNOWN IN 24 HOURS

Belief Is that Some of Men Caught in Shaft Are Still Living

(By the Associated Press) Jackson, Cal., Sept. 6.—The fate of forty-six miners entombed by fire since a week ago Sunday night in the depths of the Argonaut gold mine here probably will be known within the next 24 hours, it was predicted today as rescue crews tunneling toward the imprisoned men were nearing their goal. Opinion was divided as to whether the men were still alive.

Belief that the men had not perished was revived yesterday when rescue workers heard what sounded like blasting signals emanating from far down in the Argonaut shaft.

As the work of excavation with the adjoining Kennedy mine toward the subterranean vault where the men were trapped are nearing an end, preparations are under way for the task of bringing out the living or the dead. Hospitals are being arranged with accommodations for forty-six men.

CITY ACCEPTS HAGGART'S BID ON CITY PAVING

Asks $3,240 to Put in Paving Between Main Street and Soo Railway

At the meeting of the City Board of Commissioners last night, bids were received for the paving on Eighth street, between Main and the Soo Railway. The Haggart Construction Co. of Fargo placed the lowest bid which was $3,240 for the work. It was accepted by the city.

M. Griffith of Bismarck also placed a bid, but it was higher than that made by the other company.

The city engineer was directed to make a report on the condition of the paving in the downtown district, for the purpose of informing themselves on the amount of repair work which will be necessary.

VARDAMAN DEFEATED

(By the Associated Press) Jackson, Miss., Sept. 6.—Revised unofficial returns today from 75 of the 82 counties in the state—29 complete and 46 incomplete—show Herbert D. Stephens leading James K. Vardaman by 10,874 votes in the contest for the Democratic nomination as United States senator voted on in yesterday's run off primary.

Attend Factory School

All men from the mechanical department of the M. B. Gilman Co. are attending the service school this week at Fargo. They may go on back to the factory before their return.

FINES ASSESSED SPEEDERS LARGEST IN CITY'S HISTORY

The police department did a rushing business during the past month. Money flowed into the coffers of the city as a result. A total of $847.61 was collected from fines. This is the largest collection ever made in Bismarck in a single month.

The month of prosperity for the city has been a result chiefly of the campaign put on against speeders. The report from the police department states that.

In a report handed to the city commissioners at their meeting last night, the police department is reported as handling 85 cases of violations of traffic ordinances, most of which were for speeding. The statement that only two of the speeders were up for second offenses was pointed out as indications that the recent campaign against speeders had brought good results.

A number of arrests were made for minor offenses, but costs only were assessed. During one evening, it was reported 35 automobiles were stopped by the police and ordered to have their lights fixed within 24 hours.

CAPTURED INMATE

(By the Associated Press) Moorhead, Minn., Sept. 6.—Attendants from the State Hospital at Fergus Falls, Minnesota, arrived here yesterday to return Sophie Caplan, who escaped from the institution more than a week ago.

Local police arrested the woman Sunday night following complaints that she was in a hilarious condition.

BOY RUNS INTO PATH OF BULLET

Bemidji, Minn., Sept. 6.—Dr. C. J. Larson, one of the best known optometrists in Northern Minnesota, accidentally shot and killed his 11-year-old son Leon at his farm, eight miles north of here when the boy ran in front of a target at which his father was shooting.

Picking up a .22 calibre rifle with which his two daughters had been shooting, Dr. Larson aimed at the target and fired just as the boy ran into the path of the bullet, which struck him in the head.

The boy was rushed to Bemidji, but died a few minutes after the shooting.

Turks Are Repelled by Grecian Army

(By the Associated Press) Athens, Sept. 6.—Fresh attacks by the Turkish Nationalists have been repulsed by the Greeks who inflicted severe casualties on the Kemalists, according to an official communique issued last night. The statement says: "The enemies' offensive toward Akarag met with stubborn resistance from our troops who repulsed fresh attacks. The number of the enemy killed and wounded exceeds 10,000. Our forces returned in order, destroying communications."

"The massacres and persecution of the Christians in the evacuated districts continue. A considerable number of refugees are following our retreating troops."

In general the military situation is regarded in official and other circles as continuing to improve.

TO PRESS ADVANTAGE

(By the Associated Press) Constantinople, Sept. 6.—While the Turks are hastening to press their advantage over the Greeks in their drive towards Smyrna the latter are rushing reinforcements to the scene and if General Tricoupi can restore the morale of his men the Kemalists may yet be brought to a standstill, it is believed here.

News of the appointment of General Tricoupi as commander in chief was received with marked enthusiasm by the local Greeks population which now looks for a turn in the fortunes of their army. They also point to the success won by the third army corps in annihilating an entire Turkish cavalry division west of Blejik as indicating that the Greek morale is not entirely gone.

It is officially announced that all the army corps in the southern group have affected a juncture, this still further improving the situation.

JOINS BOARD

R. B. Murphy of Grafton became a member of the North Dakota Board of Administration here today when the court notice of his seating was served upon Wm. Langer, attorney for J. L. Cahill.

While anticipating that the next move will be for a stay of execution, the state in making arrangements to appear before Judge Berry and ask that the temporary injunction, issued by him, restraining Mr. Murphy from acting as a member of the board be dissolved.

The unusual situation has developed of an injunction being in force stopping Mr. Murphy from the activities of Mr. Cahill, when the court declares is not a member of the board.

POLITICIANS MARK TIME; MEMBERS LATE

Independents and Leaguers Count Noses on State Committees Meeting Here

NONPARTISANS SILENT

Won't Indicate Line of Action to Be Taken Until Session Is Called

I. V. A. MEET ALONE Anti-league members of the Republican State central committee did not meet with the league representatives at the capitol today.

The committee, appointed by Chairman B. F. Spaulding of the "Real Republican Committee" was composed of A. B. Jackson of Devils Lake; Treadwell Twichell of Mapleton; O. J. Sorlie of Buxton; P. W. Eddy of Jamestown and R. J. Hughes of Wahpeton.

The Independent Republicans were still at a downtown hotel when the Nonpartisans called their wing of the meeting to order at the State house. About 2:45 the Independents started to the State house.

The law provides that the sessions must be held at the state house.

The league members, however, with A. C. Townley present assembled at the capitol in the house chambers. F. C. Nichols, called them to order. There were 25 out of the 49 districts represented. B. W. Frazier of Divide county was named chairman; Stephen Terhorst, Ward county, secretary and George Ross, Dickey county, treasurer.

A resolution committee was named and adjournment taken to await its report.

At a late hour the Democrats had not gotten under way. Dr. Platon and J. F. O'Connor are in attendance.

The League Republican State Committee in adopting resolutions declared because of the opposition of some candidates on the Republican ticket to Governor Frazier that they nominate Wm. Lemke for Governor; B. F. Baker, Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor; E. R. Smiler of Minot for Attorney General to run in the fall in opposition to Nestos, Klieber and Shaffer.

The Independents nominated B. F. Spaulding as their chairman.

Members of the factions of Democratic and Republican parties marked time here this morning waiting the arrival of belated trains that might bring reinforcements. Many members of the Republican State Central Committee were not present and indications were that the meeting of the committee would be delayed until late in the afternoon.

Both Independent and Nonpartisan factions were counting noses this morning to determine which had the larger number of members present. It is admitted that the Nonpartisans have control if all their members appear.

The night's developments indicated that the Democrats had decided in favor of fusion and that the anti-fusion element was outnumbered.

Members of the Nonpartisan League held a conference at the McKenzie hotel, in which it was admitted that the League elected members of the Republican State Central Committee had not arrived.

Independent members of the State Central Committee had not determined whether to enter the meeting as all, according to lobby gossip.

Leaders of the league announced in the morning that "they were prepared to call the roll and find out who were for Lynn J. Frazier for Senator," but the absence of many leaders of the league in other days left some doubt as to the action after the calling of the roll.

Independent Republican members of the North Dakota State Central committee, awaiting the belated arrival of trains here today, appointed a committee to draft resolutions, setting forth their Republican principles.

Plans of the Nonpartisans to have Governor Nestos state his position in support of Senator Lynn J. Frazier were frustrated when the Governor left town at noon to fill a speaking date at McIntosh, South Dakota, at the meeting of the Lake Metigoshe-Black Hills Association being held there.

The Nonpartisans caucused throughout the morning and at the end of the meeting it was announced that informal discussion only had been indulged in.

CURTISS PILOTS GLIDER IN AIR

Port Washington, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Glenn H. Curtiss famous aviator, made a flight of forty seconds today in a marine glider over the waters of Manhasset Bay. It was said to have been the first time that a glider had ever risen from water.

Many a one with her ears uncovered still refuse to listen.

RAINFALL FOR THREE AUGUSTS LESS THAN INCH

The combined rainfalls of August, 1922, 1921 and 1920 at the United States weather station at Bismarck has been less than an inch, according to the reports of O. W. Roberts, meteorologist. This August twenty-two one-hundredths of an inch fell, the next to the smallest amount in the records of the local station for the month. The record amount was 1.1 inch when eighteen hundredths of an inch fell. Combining these two years with the fifty-nine one-hundredths of 1920 and the total precipitation for the months in nine-nine one hundredths.

Once before Bismarck had a succession of dry Augusts, when in 1893, 1894 and 1895, 1.49 of rain fell, .67 on the first year and .42 and .40 on the succeeding years. The average precipitation for the month is 1.98.

1875 was the wettest August, Bismarck ever had, if the records of that early day are to be believed. In recent days, 1903 with 5.59, and 1909 with 4.77, lead.

DRIEST ON RECORD.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 5.—The month just ended was the driest August on record here during the 42 years in which records were kept according to R. E. Spencer, weather observer at Moorhead, Minn., just across the Red river. Only .74 inches of rain fell during the month.

Besides that it was next to the hottest August recorded, he says, with a mean temperature of 71.4 degrees as compared to 73.4 in August 1900. In 1900 9.58 inches of rain fell, however the August record since 1881. The normal temperature here for the month is 66.1.

LITTLE CHANGE IN PROGRAM SAYS KAULFUSS

Little change will be made in the program of the North Dakota Good Roads association because of the change in the position of secretary, according to J. E. Kaulfuss who has just assumed the duties of the secretary.

"The North Dakota State Good Roads association will continue its work of advancing the good roads movement in the state," said Mr. Kaulfuss in his first pronouncement since taking up his new work. "It will continue assembling and organizing the good roads sentiment favorable to that much-needed legislation which will place North Dakota in its proper rank among the road-building states of the nation."

Basically the legislative program will remain the same," continued the new secretary, "although the association will be called upon and expected to sponsor such other legislation from time to time as conditions warrant and circumstances require. The proposed constitutional amendment and the two highways bills drafted by the association will be enacted into laws as early as possible. The exact schedule or method of procedure had not been determined but will be decided at an early meeting of the executive committee."

"The inability of the association to pass its program at this time was due not so much to any deficiency of the association itself as it was to the shortness of time and the inadequacy of funds with which to assemble public opinion behind the proposed measure. When the federal aid road act of November 9th, 1921, prescribed that the state must provide distinct state funds to match federal aid and that this had to be done before 1924, the association was formed to engage on its legislative campaign, although unorganized and unprepared to properly do so early in its career."

However, much good has been accomplished and the association possesses great membership strength and has awakened great interest in good roads in all parts of the state. The latest federal aid road act passed in the spring extended the time in which state funds must be provided to 1926, which now gives ample time in which to wage a successful publicity campaign. The proposed measures of the association, however, will be placed on the statute books as early as possible.

"It is expected with the close business of this year and the general improvement of conditions the people of the state will be more than ever alive to the need of systematic maintenance, and it is the association's business to hasten the time when the state will offer, to the world at large in addition to its many other inducements a good system of good roads throughout its length and breadth."

FOUR NOMINATED

Four nominations for queen of the pageant for Mandan night, Tuesday, Sept. 19, include the following: Miss Vivian Brown, nominated by the Business and Professional Women's club; Miss Helen Center, nominated by the Knights of Pythias; Miss Helen Stabler, nominated by the Elks, and Miss Blossom McGillic, nominated by the Legion Auxiliary.

The pageant queen will be chosen for popularity, not for beauty, declared H. K. Jensen chairman of the special committee.

JERSEY.

Jersey will be a popular fabric for fall street wear. An unusual model developed in this material comes in a very soft shade of green with collars, cuffs and belt of white kid. The skirt is quite circular in cut and the sleeves are long.

MEMBER OF RUSSIAN BALLET WILL DIRECT PAGEANT DANCES WHICH ARE TO BE GIVEN HERE

MISS MARY BROWN

Miss Mary Brown, Ballerina of the celebrated Fawcett-Oukrainian Russian Ballet, will arrive in Bismarck next week to take over the direction of the many dance groups for the Historical Pageant to be staged here September 18-19-20.

Miss Brown is an artist of remarkable ability; she is an exponent not only of the Russian Ballet, but of the classical Italian and French Ballets. She has toured both the United States and Canada as solo danseuse and has achieved extraordinary success in her pageant dancing and direction. Over 10,000 women and children throughout

NEW TEST FOR EINSTEIN THEORY

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 1.—New tests of the validity of Einstein's theory of relativity will be possible with the total solar eclipse on September 21, which will darken the eastern coast of Africa, Australia and a number of South Pacific islands, according to Professor Edwin B. Frost of the University of Chicago and director of the Yerkes Observatory.

The theory requires, he said, that the rays of light from a distant star should be bent out of their straight path when they pass within the field of attraction of a great body like the sun. But stars whose light passes close to the rim of the blazing sun cannot be photographed except on those rare occasions when the moon obscures the sun.

The path of the sun, in its annual sweep around the sky, is dotted with many stars which would serve for the test, but only those can be used which nearly graze the sun at the moment of eclipse, Professor Frost said.

Accordingly, a photograph is made of these stars at a time of the year when the sun is in a different part of the sky. On such photographs, taken at night with the same instrument that is used at the eclipse, the distances between the critical stars are measured to the ten-thousandth of an inch.

At the moment of the eclipse these stars will lie on opposite sides of the sun. Hence, when this photograph is measured, the distances between the corresponding stars should be slightly greater than on the plates taken some weeks before or after the eclipse, and which were not disturbed by the sun's presence, according to Professor Frost.

The observations by two English parties of the eclipse of May 29, 1919, in Brazil and in Liberia, in this way yielded results which have been regarded as giving the strongest physical confirmation of Einstein's theory, says Professor Frost.

Several parties of astronomers are locating stations in the path of the shadow and will make investigations along this line. It will not be until some months after the eclipse that they shall know whether the measurements confirm the theory for this eclipse. Many astronomers predict the eclipse of 1922 will fail to confirm the results of that of 1919.

NEWS BRIEFS

(By the Associated Press)

Chicago.—The body of Joseph Theurer, a grandson of Peter Schoenhofen, Chicago brewer, was found dead in a desecrated brewery with a bullet through the head and a pistol nearby. He had been missing since last Wednesday.

Chicago.—Cable dispatches from Vienna reported a change for the worse in the condition of James Hamilton Lewis, former United States senator from Illinois, whose physician ordered him removed to Devos-Platz, Switzerland.

Los Angeles.—Norman Selby (Kid McCoy) obtained a license for his ninth marriage, declaring he expected this one to be a success.

Peoria, Ill.—Four hundred were reported to have been initiated into the Ku Klux Klan last night.

Poor Road Conditions Hinder Automobile Sales in Japan

"Perhaps the greatest hindrance to the development of the automobile industry in Japan is the poor condition of roads throughout the country," says A. L. Zollner, special representative of the Willis-Overland Company, who has just returned from a trip to the Orient.

"With the exception of a few roads used exclusively by the military, road improvements are practically unknown."

"In the cities and towns, but few of the streets have been broadened since the pre-Meiji period when the streets were used principally by pedestrians and occupants of sedan chairs."

"With the introduction of Occidental methods of transportation, however, some of the larger cities are building wider roads, but those for the most part are limited to the main thoroughfares in the immediate business and shopping districts."

"The city of Tokyo has recently levied a tax on car owners. The proceeds of which are to be utilized for municipal road improvements. This tax, while having a deterrent effect on sales during the period of deflation and liquidation, will eventually mean much for the industry."

"The recent limitation of armaments conference at Washington it is believed will also furnish money for road building, money that formerly went into the construction of naval units."

"Limousines are by far the most popular type of car in Japan. The reason for this is the highly developed sense of personal dignity of the people and their unwillingness to drive their own cars. Limousine bodies, therefore, are much in demand and many chassis are shipped into the country for closed jobs."

BOARD LEAVES VALUATION AT $1,312,000,000

Total assessed valuation of North Dakota as left by the board of equalization for the year 1922 amounts to approximately $1,312,000,000. The total assessed valuation for 1921 was $1,377,918,000 and in 1919 the valuation was $1,533,000,000. The division of valuation for 1922 is as follows: Farm lands, $899,087,668; city real estate, $102,711,149; personal property, $98,000,000; corporation property, $212,995,580.

The assessed valuation of farm lands for the year 1922, as left by the state board of equalization amounts to 68.5 per cent of the total assessed valuation of the state as compared to 70.38 per cent in 1919 and 68.66 per cent in 1921.

The valuation of city real estate, as left by the state board of equalization amounts to 8.36 per cent of the total assessed valuation of the state as compared to 6.5 per cent in 1919 and 8.4 per cent in 1921.

The valuation of the state personal property as left by the state board of equalization for 1922 amounts to 6.88 per cent of the total assessed valuation of the state as compared with 7.89 per cent in 1919 and 7.50 per cent in 1921. (The valuation of personal property, returned at a low figure by the assessors is estimated as all changes ordered by the state board of equalization have not yet been completed. It is possible that this valuation will exceed $90,000,000 in which case there will be a slight shift of burden from other classes of property.)

The valuation of corporation property including railroads, express, telephone, sleeping car and street railway property amounts to 16.24 per cent of the total assessed valuation of the state as compared to 15 per cent in 1919 and 15.5 per cent in 1921.

The total valuations as left by the state board follow:

Only a slight change is shown in the total figures from last year, general property last year bearing 34.48 per cent of all the taxes while this year the same classes bear 33.78.

Corporations last year bore 15.623 per cent of all the taxes while this year they bear 16.24 per cent.

Boy Injured as Shot Gun Explodes

Emil Link, 8-year-old son of Charles Link of Stanton, is in a Mandan hospital facing amputation of two fingers of his left hand as the result of an accident while playing with a loaded shot gun. The accident occurred as a result of the boy's firing a shot gun at the river shooting fish. One shell had jammed in the gun. The gun had been placed in a supposedly safe place, but the child gained possession of it, and in playing with it caused the explosion of the shell which had jammed in the gun.

American Women Use Fewer Hair Nets

Chefoo, Province of Shantung, China, Sept. 1.—Women in America and Europe are using fewer hair-nets than heretofore, if the fall in the market here is a criterion. The making of hairnets is one of Shantung's chief industries. More than 70,000 persons are employed in 270 factories in weaving into hair nets hair obtained from "pig-tails" discarded by Chinese.

Since the Republic was established there has been a surplus of hair because many Chinese cut off their queues which the Manchus required to be worn as badges of subjugation. The black Chinese hair is easily dyed to various shades of brown, blonde, and brunette desired by western women. Recently the demand has fallen off and many hairnet makers are unemployed. About 70 factories were closed within a week. The industry is described as unpromising. The Chinese merchants are wondering whether western women are no longer using nets because they are bobbing their hair or whether Europeans are becoming competitors in the trade.

Ten New Faculty Members Added to Staff at College

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 6.—Ten additions to the staff of the North Dakota Agricultural College will supplement the faculty when the fall term opens, September 25, according to Dr. John L. Coulter, president. At a meeting of the board of administration this week-end approval was given to the appointment of Mrs. Myrtle G. Cole as new state leader of home demonstration agents as dean of women and of Miss Christine Midway, North Dakota food demonstrator during the war, and recently in charge of home economics at Jamestown high school, to the state of the School of Home Economics and as supervisor of home economics in state high schools under the provisions of the federal Smith-Hughes law.

Other new appointments to the college staff which have been made this summer include: Oliver Field, University of Minnesota who has recently completed resident requirements for the degree of doctor of philosophy, and is to be instructor in history, economics and political and social science in the college's model high school; Miss Laura Duernier, Washington State College, instructor in mathematics; George D. Van Dyke, University of Iowa, instructor in physics; James E. Chapman, University of Minnesota instructor in soils; L. R. Holland, University of Nebraska, instructor in dairying; Amy Euren, North Dakota Agricultural College, to fill a vacancy in the department of home economics; Mrs. M. D. Rindlaub Fargo, to fill a vacancy as head of the department of fine and applied arts; and Miss Florence Schwartz to be full time instructor in foreign languages.

With the new appointments completed and with the work on the new building at the college progressing rapidly plans are practically complete for the fall term which opens September 25.

SURVEY BOARD TO COORDINATE STATE LAWS

(By the Associated Press)
Fargo, N. D., Sept. 6.—The recently appointed board, headed by Governor R. A. Nestos to make a survey of all regulatory state laws, at a meeting here yesterday decided to coordinate these laws, and to divorce the enforcement features of the present regulatory statutes from the various educational institutions of the state, according to C. P. Guthrie, chairman of the board. A decision to place these enforcement features with the present enforcement branches of the state government was also reached, Mr. Guthrie said.

The board appointed committees to make an investigation and to report back at a later meeting with such recommendations looking toward coordination and legislative changes as may be deemed advisable to carry out the plan.

Name Myrtle G. Cole Dean of Women at Agricultural College

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 6.—Mrs. Myrtle Gleason Cole, state leader of home demonstration agents, has been selected to fill the new position of dean of women at the North Dakota Agricultural College, according to Dr. John L. Coulter, president. The board of administration approved the appointment at a meeting at Minot Thursday.

Mrs. Cole will have charge of the student life and interests among the women students which will include supervision over Ceres hall, women's dormitory, cooperation with sororities, rooming houses, and parents. Social regulations, life and entertainment of similar interest among women students will be under the guidance of the dean of women.

The new dean is a graduate of the University of Iowa, which she re-entered several years ago to take up the work offered in home economics. During that time she was in charge of a girls' dormitory and of work in connection with sororities and other interests of women students at the university. Three of her children, including two daughters, are also graduates of the University of Iowa, and her youngest son is to enter that institution this fall. Following four years as supervisor of home economics work in the schools of Clinton, Iowa, she came to the North Dakota Agricultural College two years ago as extension clothing specialist. Two months she was appointed state leader of home demonstration agents in North Dakota. Significant success has attended her efforts in the work throughout the state. She will continue to devote a part of her time to the home demonstration work in the state.

Consistent increases in the number of girls attending the college in recent years makes the new appointment of special importance, college officials declare. While the number of women students attending the home economics courses is steadily increasing, large numbers are registering in the Schools of Science and Literature and of Education, and an increasing number in the school of Pharmacy. Others come to complete their high school work in the college high school and in the short industrial and winter courses.

Farmers' Pool Will Take Burden From Grain Grower

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 30.—Farmers of the west and northwest who are members of five state wheat growers associations which comprise the Northwest Wheat Growers Association, will be relieved of the responsibility of selling their own wheat, under plans of the organization which on August 1 opened a sales agency here.

All matters pertaining to the sale of wheat will be handled by the several selling agencies in the several states in the territory, according to J. F. Adams, auditor of the organization.

Application for a membership in the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce has been made, through which medium the major portion of the grain will be sold, Mr. Adams said. The Northwest Wheat Growers will not act as a commission concern, its interest being confined to the selling end, as no wheat will be purchased by it, he said. It also will not deal in future options.

One of the objects of the organization is to attempt to create a more stable market, Mr. Adams declared. A normal quantity will be sold each month, depending upon market conditions, with no set limits to gauge the movement.

The Northwest Wheat Growers maintain selling agencies at Portland, Ore., Seattle and Ogden, Utah. Wheat from North Dakota, Montana, Nebraska and Colorado will flow through the Minneapolis office while Washington, Oregon and Idaho grain will be disposed of at the western agencies.

Under the plan, each of the 20,000 members, who have contracted to pool their wheat for six years, will take his wheat to an immediate elevator and obtain elevator receipts, according to Mr. Adams. These will be forwarded to the Northwest Wheat Growers office and farmers will be paid 75 per cent of the full value, based on current market prices, he explained. Additional advances will be made as the grain is sold.

Final payments will be based on average prices.

For its export business, the organization has made connections with a European house which deals only in co-operative wheat, he added. Duluth, Seattle and Portland will act as export ports.

As Chicago is out of its immediate territory, no trading will be done on the Chicago Board of Trade, Mr. Adams said.

PAN PACIFIC CONFERENCE GOES TO AUSTRALIA

Sydney, N. S. W., Sept. 4.—The Pan-Pacific Scientific congress will be held in Australia next year, as the federal government has agreed to the proposal, providing the cost to the commonwealth does not exceed 5,000 pounds. Prominent scientists from the United States and all other Pacific countries are expected to attend, according to the Australian National Research council, which is sponsoring the congress.

It was explained that the last conference, held in Honolulu, decided that the next meeting should be held in Australia in 1923 if the commonwealth government would agree to act as "host." Sir Edgeworth David urged strongly that advantage should be taken of this opportunity to enable great American scientists to visit Australia, and his appeal was successful. Among the questions to be discussed at the conference are the problems arising from pests in wheat and fruits, diseases in sheep and cattle, the blowfly, the tick, hookworm, malaria and other diseases of the tropics and semi-tropics.

Today's Word

Today's word is — INCOMMUNICADO.
It's pronounced — een-co-moon-i-kah-do, with accent on the fifth syllable.
It means — cut off from communication, and, as adopted recently into newspaper English, invariably applies to police detention of a prisoner who is denied the privilege of communication with friends, counsel or others except those interested in the case against him.
It was "lifted" bodily from the Spanish "incomunicado," meaning "isolated," or without communication.
It's used like this:—"The holding by the police of unconvicted prisoners incommunicado (often incorrectly spelled 'incommunicado'), while long practiced in Latin countries, is in gross violation of the captives' rights in all lands where Anglo-Saxon law prevails."

PEOPLE'S FORUM

COMPARES RATES
Editor Bismarck Tribune:
Even for the most easy going, modest striving citizen life has many surprises, however, the crowning event, along the line of unexpected happenings of recent date, it seems to me, was the announcement that water rates for Bismarck would be advanced 35 per cent.

The writer moved to Bismarck from St. Paul. We wouldn't move back on a bet, at least not as long as it is humanly possible to meet or monthly bills for water (?)

While in St. Paul we lived in a duplex the family using other half of duplex and ourselves used one water meter—minimum rate for both families was 90c per quarter year or 15c per month for family—true we exceeded the minimum charge one month—having an extra 5c to pay during the third quarter. The writer paid the extra 5c on agreement of the other family that they would pay the extra nickel—next time it never happened again.

Milbank, St. Dak., uses the slogan "You'll like Milbank," I like Bismarck but fear there may be some not so charitably minded who would hardly recommend that slogan with present or future pending water rates in force.

Yours very truly,
—H. G. Schwantes.

BIG INCREASE IN FIRST YEAR REGISTRATION

Freshman enrollment at the high school yesterday far exceeded the expectations of the school authorities. All the nicely arranged schedules of the high school authorities for 50 new freshmen were thrown to the winds when 70 enrolled before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Principal DeBolt declared that the freshman enrollment was much larger than he had expected. He stated that he thought it might reach 150 students before the end of the year. In the advanced classes 300 students had been registered last spring. Six or eight new students had been added to the classes of sophomores, juniors, and seniors. About 400 students in the high school classes are expected said Mr. DeBolt. According to all indications the enrollment this year will be much larger than any in the past. Long before 9 o'clock yesterday the corridors of the high school were lined with boys and girls ready to start upon another stretch of the high school work.

AT THE MOVIES

THE ELTINGE
Thomas Meighan, Paramount star, has a great, big, human hobby. He loves children, and loves to work with them. It is hardly necessary to describe the enthusiasm with which Mr. Meighan entered into his work to play the bachelor daddy of five kids in his new Paramount Picture, "The Bachelor Daddy."

A Paramount star for two years or more, Mr. Meighan's popularity is founded on his stage and cinema achievements. He turned his attention to the screen when the industry was young and from the start was one of its brightest exemplars. His memorable work in "The Miracle Man," followed by such pictures as "Male and Female," "Why Change Your Wife," "The Prince Chap," and others, placed him at the front of screen stars. "The Bachelor Daddy" shows at the Eltinge, Wednesday and Thursday with Movie Chats and an Aesop Fable also on the program.

Will Give Full Credit for Bible Course in Local High School

A class in Bible will be taught again this year in the local high school provided a sufficient number enroll. An official syllabus has been selected and adopted by the High School Board of the state, and the work will be conducted on the basis of this syllabus. The syllabus provides for a full credit of high school work and ranks with other high school electives. This is known as the "North Dakota plan" of religious education and has the full endorsement of Professor Squires of the University of North Dakota who has written the syllabus, and of Miss Nielson, state superintendent of schools.

The class will be taught by Rev. L. R. Johnson, pastor of the Baptist church unless otherwise provided for. The class will meet at the Baptist church each Monday evening for one hour or till the required time for the course is used. It is hoped that pupils of the high school will take advantage of this course while doing their school work since it fits in well with the course and gives them an acquaintance with the Bible which otherwise they might not be able to get. Provision will be made by the principal for the enrollment of any who wish to do so.

Governor Nestos' Appeal

Bismarck, Sept. 1, 1922.

To the People of North Dakota:

Buy your lignite now.

Have your dealer order a few cars of coal without delay so that you and your neighbors may have what fuel you need for the fall and early winter. If you neglect placing your first orders now your wife and children may soon be suffering. Learn how to burn lignite and what changes of equipment are needed for the best possible fuel results. When you have learned how, you will always want to use lignite as the cheapest and most satisfactory fuel for our state.

The operators have assured us that the prices of lignite will remain fair and reasonable, and that they are able to produce a largely increased amount of coal if orders are placed immediately. It is your duty to co-operate by having a part of your coal ordered now when it may be mined and shipped more easily and speedily. Do not fail to buy now.

If you seek information on North Dakota's lignite coal deposits, or the use of lignite for industrial or domestic purposes, write to the Board of Railroad Commissioners at Bismarck, the state fuel administrator, for its recently published pamphlet on lignite.

Yours for the welfare of the state,

(Signed) R. A. NESTOS,
Governor.

Published in the interest of the entire state by the North Dakota Lignite Coal Operators Ass'n.

AFTER WE DIE
The young king of Siam, Maha Vajiravudh, married his cousin, Princess Lakshmi Yavan. One wife is enough, says he, abolishing the custom of maintaining a royal harem.
This is a big sensation in the Orient. For the old king, Maha's father, had 300 wives.
Human nature being about the same all over the world, the Siamese taxpayers probably are glad to see the harem expire.
"This new king," you reflect, "must be a progressive chap with modern ideas. He is enlightened." King Maha's abolishment of the royal harem illustrates vividly the great changes that come as one generation goes to the graveyard and a new generation takes its place.

What with the World war and all, the present generation has made a frightful blot of its job.
Men have walled themselves into a closed situation. They run about like caged animals, seeking an exit. Every day some weak steps forth into the field of economics and sociology with a new "cure-all." He claims he has the magic medicine that will bring rest and peace out of unrest and war.
At this attempt to stabilize conditions is commendable. But the probability is that the big problems will be solved by the rising generation. The man who falls into a well is not usually pulled out by himself.
The world's hope is in the young. The who are marching through school days to take up where we leave off. They are going to inherit big problems. And they are going to solve them, for they will get on the job with fresh energy and a new viewpoint.

The generation that staged the Civil war in our country left everything "in an awful mess." The generation that followed developed the country and its wealth and restored the damages until prosperity hung on the trees.
It was the same in other important countries. Then the young generation got old and smashed things to ruins. History repeats.
Naturally, it would be foolish for us to lie down and quit cold, letting problems grow worse until youngsters grow up. But the hope of civilization is unquestionably in the boys and girls returning to school after vacation. The best way to solve our problems is to make those boys and girls efficient, sensible and straight-thinking as lies within our power.

LAZINESS
To harness the ocean's waves and make them do man's work, the Stodder Wave Power Corporation is formed at White Plains, N. Y.
Flots, rising on waves, will pull chains that will run compressed air engines. So claim the organizers. Whether the scheme works or not, it's only a question of years until part of the gigantic power of ocean waves and tides will become man's slave.
Human laziness will find a way to harness tremendous power now going to waste in nature.

COAL
Whether you will have enough coal, this winter depends more on railroads than on mines. The mines can produce enough soft coal. Getting it hauled to consumers will be a bigger job than the railroads have ever done.
The only permanent solution of the fuel power is to put the nation on an electrical basis, power generated by burning coal at the mines. A starving man, however, isn't helped by knowledge that food will be plentiful 20 years from now.

HEAT
Grandpa can remember when only a few rooms in the home were kept heated in winter. Kitchen and dining room were shut off after bedtime and the family gathered around the base-burner in the only warm room. Bedrooms were so cold the water in the pitcher froze during the night.
Present generation is soft, not satisfied unless every room in the house is warm enough to fry an egg. It might do the health good to go back to old-fashioned heating methods for a few months. Even a coal shortage can't have its good side. It may teach us not to be too extravagant with fuel.

EXPO
Big plans under way for the exposition to celebrate 150th anniversary of signing of Declaration of Independence.
It will be held in Philadelphia in 1926.
That is four years away, things move fast in modern times, and four years may bring many changes. For one thing, you may go to the expo in a flying flier - electricity, sent by wireless, its motive power. How much money do you expect to have in 1926? Make the Philadelphia trip if you can. Travel broadens.

HOUSES
Renters, ahoy! The Associated General Contractors check up and predict that 736,000 new dwellings will be built in the United States this year.
A long row to hoe, yet, however. The housing shortage at the beginning of 1922 was 1,000,000. Out of the estimated 736,000 houses to be built this year, 611,000 are for normal requirements, mostly replacing old ones. The balance, only 125,000, applies to the shortage.

WRECKS
Ships lost at sea in 1921 totaled 155 steamships and motor vessels and 83 sailing craft. So reports Lloyd's, insurance firm of London.
On a tonnage basis, steamships lost at sea are about 1 in 230 a year. The "dangerous" airplane!

GOLD
A young German working in a cigar factory at Breslau was badly injured several years ago. Surgeons removed his fractured ribs and replaced them with ribs of gold and platinum.
Now the young man says he lives in a perpetual nightmare, afraid hold-ups will operate on him and take his ribs. We don't know the chances of that in Germany, but over here it would be nearly a certainty.

BATIK DESIGNS
A flock of white crinolines is embellished on its sleeves and pocket with an all-over batik design in black and red. Red pumps are worn with this costume.

CONVENIENT
A smart frock, made of the most supple black satin, has a skirt drape which may be drawn up around the shoulders to form a smart loose coat effect.

SPORTS COAT
A fur designer says the short sports coat of fur will be decidedly popular this coming winter and very moderate in price.

EDITORIAL REVIEW
Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

HIGH FARES AND DECREASING TRAVEL

The decrease in passenger revenue shown by the current reports of important railway systems is attributed to the greater use of the automobile both for commuting and for vacation outings and to the high cost of living. But it is not the fundamental cause the high cost of railroad transportation? The American public is peculiarly fond of railway travel and prone to indulge in the service of other comforts. But the virtual doubling of passenger fares as compared with the rates in force before the war has necessarily discouraged pleasure trips. That more than the private automobile must be held responsible for dwindling passenger receipts.

Assuming that this is the cause, why is not the remedy to be found in a return to old-time excursion rates? The theory that high fares mean larger receipts has been dispelled. The plan of keeping the equipment busy having more passengers at lower rates might be tried with advantage.

Similarly on the sea there are anticipations of a dull winter due to the high cost of ocean travel. Many large liners are scheduled to be laid off for repairs and others will be withdrawn for special cruises. Doubling the price of passage worked well enough in the summer season; with the rush over and with third-class patronage curtailed the problem of income may become acute.

Why does not the solution here lie in reduced rates to stimulate business? The American tourist public is as ready to travel by sea as by land with proper inducements. But it balks at paying $250 for accommodations which cost $100 a few years ago and were relatively as good then as now.—New York World.

ANOTHER PIONEER PASSES

Forty-eight years ago a dashing young cavalry man rode out into the vastness of the unamed west with the gallant Custer forces, riding always in the forefront through the most dangerous places and only by a strange trick of fate was saved from being a victim in the massacre. Three years later he gave up the life of a soldier to become a pioneer of western North Dakota and to do his bit in the building up and unfolding the destinies of a great state. The other day all that was mortal of this man was laid at rest in the "City of the Dead," just outside of Dickinson.

For 37 years Walter Sterland was a resident of Dickinson and Stark county. During that time he suffered the hardships and endured the privations that came to all pioneers. He did his full part in the development of the city and county. When his help and counsel were asked, he did not spare himself but put his shoulder to the wheel and pushed. For 37 years, he worked as he lived quietly among his neighbors. He was honored with many positions of trust yet he sought glory not for himself but only for the community in which he lived.
During his tenure of office as a magistrate many offenders were brought before him. He was quick to mete out justice. Yet it was justice that always tempered with mercy. His fine sense of honor and fairness and his great respect for the law of the land increased the wisdom brought into play in rendering his decisions.
When he was laid to rest hundreds bowed in silent tribute at his grave. Hundreds mourned the loss of a true friend, a kind neighbor and a wise judge. Yet, many of those who in the days to come will miss him the most were not there to say farewell. For Walter Sterland's greatest work in life was done as juvenile commissioner.

Scores of young men and women on the Slope today are thanking Walter Sterland for setting them right when they first encountered the storms of life. Scores of boys and girls who came under his supervision in recent years will revere his memory with grateful hearts for the helpful counsel and consideration given at a time when the world seemed dead set against them. They learned to know him as a friend rather than an official. It was to a friend that they told their troubles and it was their friend who set them on the right track, who bade them forget and gave them another chance even in the face of a storm of criticism. And, only in rare instances have they forgotten their debt.

His was a life of great usefulness. He made the most of the full span allotted to mortals. He fulfilled every duty he felt incumbent upon him and in all things acted wisely and well. Peace be to his ashes.—Dickinson Press.

A NEW FLIGHT RECORD

The average American is not greatly thrilled by the report that a European aviator has made a sustained flight of more than two hours in an engineless monoplane. Removed as we are from daily contact with air transportation, such as the coming and going of air-bus lines between capitals and across the Channel, we have not yet acquired the right mental attitude toward the plane. Steps in its development, therefore, mean little to most of us.

This is unfortunate. The airplane is one of the great inventions of the twentieth century and promises to revolutionize transportation. If America is progressive, it will have to get in step with the progress of the plane.

Twenty years ago it was a tremendous feat even to fly a plane by motor. Now we have an airman soaring about for some six miles with nothing more than air currents to propel him.

As the pioneer American flyer, Glenn Curtiss, puts it: "We may learn to soar like the albatross over the ocean."
However, motorless flight promises to be a turning point in the development of aviation. It foreshadows the time when heavy, expensive motors will not be needed for air-craft. It prophesies the day of planes with small motors that almost any man can afford to own. Aviation will be popularized and put in reach of the masses. The plane will enable the next generation to follow a very different mode of life than ours of today.—Minneapolis Journal.

THE KINGDOM OF THE MOVIES

There are some fifteen thousand motion picture theaters in this country providing fifteen million seats. Allowing for two performances a day it is figured that twenty million persons look for an hour or two on the screen pictures every twenty-four hours. They do not go from a sense of duty, but with the desire to be entertained, and incidentally, instructed. Is it any wonder that United States Commissioner of Education John J. Tigert said recently: "Within the celluloid film lies the most powerful weapon for the attack against ignorance that the world has ever known." Here, indeed, is a kingdom whose power and influence cannot be accurately assessed.

Blanket indictments are sometimes leveled against the movies that are unjust as they are discriminating. A fairer idea of their problems and shortcomings, however, is gained from a recent questionnaire carried out by the Ince Studios of Culver City, Cal. The results indicate that present day opinion is more favorable toward the movies than it was a decade ago toward the speaking stage. Some of the criticisms reported in this survey that challenge attention are that too many sex pictures are shown, that the ideals and standards represented are too often low, that vice and crime are made too prominent, and that domestic relations, which should be personal, private and sacred, are cheapened and degraded by too much publicity. These changes come from the friends of the movies, and thus constitute a critique that should be heeded.

With hardly an exception educators gave their approval to the motion pictures, on condition that they be used in the right way. Just because they are so powerful for good or ill, they must be used in the right way. It is well that they now have in Will H. Hays a Sir Galahad willing to co-operate with schools, homes and churches to make the movies more nearly what they ought to be.—Minneapolis Journal.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HOME

BEGIN HERE TODAY

A mile from the shore of Lake Huron was the mysterious and ghostly Resurrection Rock, symbol of some great wrong done in the past, which now became connected with a supernatural force in the mind of
ETHEL CAREW. That morning she came to the home of her grandfather, old
LUCAS CULLEN, SENIOR, who had won millions in violent struggles for timber lands in northern Michigan. She asked for money to carry on the engineering project undertaken by her father before he had been killed in France.
BARNEY LOURELLE then entered her life. The young army officer had received messages from his father during a search. He must go to the Resurrection Rock. He felt that the trip would solve the mystery of his obscure parentage and of his rearing by Indians. The news of his presence throws Lucas Cullen into a fit of rage and he tries to bribe Ethel to tell what she knows of Lourelle.

GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER V

It was fast becoming dark, as the swift, midwinter evening closed down. With the night came wind; and upon wind returned the cold. The gaunt outline of the Rock withdrew to dinner and dinner distances until Ethel at her window could see it no more. Suddenly a bright dot glowed through the darkness—a light upon Resurrection Rock, a light yellow with distance illumining a window, Ethel thought. It went out as suddenly as it appeared; then it glowed again and once more went out. She watched steadily for some time, but no light appeared again. She heard a soft tap, tap, tap at her door; and she went over and opened it to find the collier, Lad and Lass, who had been out with Kincheole when she arrived. The dogs, wet from the snow melting in their long hair, turned Ethel's thought to Miss Platt's husband.
He had always affected the manners of a gallant and always before had made it a particular point to be on hand to greet Ethel when she arrived at St. Florentin. She had been too excited to attribute any significance to his absence this time, but now the fact stirred disquiet.
As he had taken the dogs with him, he probably had been on the lake, for the dogs would not have been able to run except on the ice where the wind had cleared the snow. Now what had kept Miss Platt's lazy, comfort-loving husband out so late this evening in the dark and cold?

Every one was at supper when Asa Redbird returned with a telegram which—like all Cullen business telegrams—was in code.

Lucas at once left the table and, with Miss Platt, went into his office to decipher the brief communication from his son. When he returned to the table, it was so plain that he had exciting news that his wife could not repress her question: "Something has happened in Chicago, Lucas?" he denied, and he gulped a cup of tea, hot. Ethel watched Kincheole as Miss Platt returned to her seat.

He was trying to catch his wife's glance; but Miss Platt avoided looking at him.

"Asa saw several foxes about," she said casually to Ethel; "I suppose they're after our chickens."

Lucas was taking another cup of tea, and Ethel was watching his hand reach for the sugar bowl, miss it, and reach again. He was drinking when suddenly he dropped his cup and jerked up and away from the table; Kincheole and Ethel herself started also as the report of a rifle as she started to descend the stairs, she heard the office door open and her grandfather say distinctly, "All right; all right!"

"They had lit the office lamp, and the beam of light from the door showed Ethel her grandfather standing while Kincheole went past him toward the kitchen where he turned on the water."

Her grandfather slowly turned about, and the light from the other shone upon his face, inclining downward a little, strained and with muscles of the jaw drawn tight. She had only a glimpse before he stepped into the room and turned out the light; but, having seen, she gripped hard at the stair rail for an instant to steady herself before she crept back to her room and shut herself in to think.

Kincheole and her grandfather were planning some deed—some wrong, secret act of violence. In no other way could she account for what she had witnessed in that glimpse of her grandfather's face—vindictiveness, triumph, fear.

She heard a whine at her door and the pat of a dog's paw at the panel, and opening the door, she saw Lad and Lass. "Lad, Lad!" she called, "Lad, Lad!"

When she realized this was blood, she set her fingers to feeling for a cut from which it might have flowed; and when she could find no wound, she clung to Lad, demanding of him:

"It was the fox! Lad! You caught the fox! Lad, tell me—tell me, you caught the fox!"

But her own terrors denied her; her heart and overwhelmed her struggles for calm thought. "Dried, brown, mat in the dog's hair must have been had he caught and killed the fox; it was under his neck where it would have come if Lad had sniffed over some one who lay bleeding."

That deed, secret and violent, which Kincheole and her grandfather had considered—was it already done? What sort of deed?

"Ah, j'y etais mesquin!" The voice, Barney Lourelle's voice, seemed to float to her from far away over the snow; and she seemed to see him, when she shut her eyes, lying stretched out, with Lad sniffing over him.

"They've done it—they've done it," she repeated again and again to herself, without yet daring to allow any closer defining of "it." But whatever it was, "it" was done.

She waited until dawn was spreading over the eastern sky before she went downstairs, carrying her shoes; she put them on and found her skirts, the dogs roused and danced about her; she took them out with her and made for the lake.

The light had strengthened sufficiently to show her the gaunt outline of Resurrection Rock, white and lifeless above the lake ice.

When she glanced back toward St. Florentin, she saw that some one was following her from her grandfather's house, a man who must be Kincheole. Suddenly Ethel changed her plan and swung from the direct line to the shore and cut into the woods to the little clearing where Asa Redbird lived.

"I want you to come right away out to the Rock, Asa," she said. "I'm going there; come after me quick as you can. You understand?" She turned away and started directly for the Rock. Kincheole was ahead of her now and hurrying, without apparent regard for her and without looking back.

SAFETY

The fear emotion is working overtime. Insurance Press, trade paper, says that Americans this year will take out a total of $9,000,000,000 of new life insurance.

Life insurance is growing eight times faster than our population. A fortunate situation, for at least seven-tenths of men would leave their families practically penniless except for insurance, systematic and scientific saving. Bet them that you will die before they expect you to.

Here is a fortune. Get up some-thing to take rouge off coats.

PIONEER EDITOR A.H. ELLSWORTH PASSES AWAY

New Rockford, Sept. 6.—After a period of sickness lasting over six months, Alf H. Ellsworth signed his "30" completed his gallery of life, and passed away at 6:00 o'clock p. m. Saturday, September 2nd, at the age of 87, still on the sunny side of life. The seemingly incurable disease cancer of the liver and other complications hastened the end, its awaited end with faith and confidence in the future and passed into the vale of tears as if having been weary and needing rest, using his burden to a pillow, lied down on a couch of pleasant dreams. His wife, daughter, and two brothers, Will and Jim with their families were at the bedside. His two sons Howard H. and Frank C. were unable to arrive until Sunday morning owing to train connections at the week end.

Rev. Snyder of the Methodist Episcopal church of Fargo officiated at the services at 2:30 Monday, Sept. 4, in the church followed by the Old Settlers beautiful ceremony and then the Mayor, of which he was a member, took charge and held the last and but most impressive rites at the grave. The pall bearers were representatives of each lodge of which he was a member including the A. F. & A. M., I. O. O. F., A. O. U. W., M. W. A., and the K. P.'s, with honorary pall bearers in a like manner from among his many old time friends and admirers.

Prominent Lodge Man

Outside of the newspaper fraternity, in which he spent his life, true fraternalism and lodge work was his greatest hobby and he was known ever-the-state by members of the different fraternities for the interest and zeal displayed at all times. He was rated as an eloquent ritualist of high rank who aimed at efficiency in that which he undertook and real fraternalism, as it should be, was his aim in life. He was a graduate of the pioneer school of newspaper work from the boy to editor and applied his talents always in a zealous and proficient manner. His election as Grand Master Workmen of the A. O. U. W., with other Grand Lodge offices he held, was perhaps the greatest honor and tribute to his years of patient and painstaking lodge career. "Alf," as he was known by his newspaper and fraternal friends, who are legion, was of that sunny disposition that makes for a better and happier world, always the dispenser of a pleasant smile and an optimism that was worth while to see.

Alfred H. Ellsworth
Born at Eldora, Iowa, Dec. 9th, 1835; the third child of Col. and Mrs. D. F. Ellsworth, who became pioneers of that state after the Civil War.

Pioneer in State

Came to Dakota Territory in 1881, and as an apprentice printer helped issue the first paper published at Lisbon in June of that year. He became editor of the Sargent County Item in 1884, which he published until he went to Fargo as an employee of the Daily Argus in 1889. Subsequently was editor and part owner of the Daily Capital at Jamestown, and for several years foreman of the Daily Alert. Was telegraph editor of the State Center in New Rockford in 1910-1918, and went to a Fargo Job Printing Co. in June, 1921. Survived by Frances S. Ellsworth, wife and a year old daughter, Hazel. Also by two sons and a daughter from a former marriage: Howard H. Ellsworth of Killdeer; Frank C. Ellsworth of Bismarck; and Mrs. Andrew Erdahl of Dickinson. Other surviving relatives are his aged mother, Mrs. Mary E. Ellsworth of New Rockford; two brothers and a sister, W. A. Ellsworth of New Rockford, J. E. Ellsworth of Forman, and Mrs. F. G. Sims of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Prominent Politically

Served as a member of the Republican State Central Committee from 1886 to 1900. Never was a candidate for any public office. Became an Odd Fellow in Fargo, Dec. 10th, 1889; received the Encampment degree at Jamestown in 1892 and was admitted to the Grand Lodge at Valley City in 1894. Served as District Deputy Grand Master representing New Rockford Lodge No. 140, and lodges in the 9th district, 1910-20-21. Joined the F. T. Seward lodge No. 16, A. O. U. W., at Jamestown and served as its Master Workman in 1907. Was elected Grand Overseer in 1893, Grand Foreman in 1899, Grand Master in 1900, and representative to Supreme Lodge at Buffalo, N. Y., in 1901. Again elected as Supreme representative in 1921 but ill health prevented attendance. Became a Python Knight in the Columbian Lodge 1894 and received the Grand Lodge rank in 1918 as rep. of No. 9. Deposited Grand Lodge card in Fargo No. 2, Nov. 7th, 1921. Was a member of Century Lodge No. 60, A. F. & A. M., and New Rockford Camp No. 2214, Modern Woodmen of America. Served as State Lecturer for M. W. A. in 1904-05.

19 FREIGHT CARS BURNED

Great Falls, Mont., Sept. 5.—Nineteen freight cars were burned in a fire of mysterious origin that swept over fire tracks in the Emerson yards of the Great Northern system in West Great Falls last night. The yards contained 800 yards which were endangered by the blaze.
The fire was reported to have broken out simultaneously on five different tracks in most cases in cars whose doors had been pushed shut.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Griffin Is Honor Guest at 8 o'clock Breakfast

Misses Mary Atkinson and Margaret Smith gave an 8 o'clock breakfast this morning at the T. R. Atkinson home, 102 Ave. B. West, in honor of Miss Irene Griffin, whose marriage to Arnold Standsand will take place Sept. 17. Twelve of Miss Griffin's high school classmates were present at the breakfast.

The dining room which was artistically decorated with phlox and sweet alyssum was lighted with shaded candles which threw a soft glow over the white decorations. Favors for the guests were white satin ring-bearers pillows attached by ribbons to the place cards.

After breakfast the honor guest was invited into the sun parlor to receive her presents which consisted of a shower of kitchen articles pinned to an improvised clothes line. Brilliant colored garden flowers in baskets and vases gave the living room and the sun parlor a festive appearance. The hostesses were assisted at the breakfast by Mrs. T. R. Atkinson, Mrs. W. L. Smith, and Misses Kathryn Smith and Ethel Pollard.

Musical Program Planned by Ladies

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will entertain in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. All the ladies of the city are invited to attend. The program for the afternoon will include the following numbers: Miss Mary Atkinson, piano solo; Mrs. John French, vocal solo; Mrs. J. A. Halgren, piano selection; Mrs. John Larson, vocal selection; Mrs. O. A. Olson, reading. It is expected that Miss Plath will give a reading. At the close of the program refreshments will be served. As this is the regular social business meeting and their friends are urged to be present. All are welcome.

W. C. T. U. MEET.

At the meeting of the W. C. T. U. which was held at the home of Mrs. M. A. Keller of 502 Eight St. yesterday afternoon Mrs. C. G. Boice was elected as delegate from the local chapter to the state convention which will be held at Fargo, Sept. 21-25.

Pans for the coming season were made by the members. In a report on the rest room which was maintained by the members of the local W. C. T. U. at Mandan, it was stated that over 300 names were registered during the fair week. Many of the visitors at the rest room did not register.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon to the 25 ladies present.

FAREWELL FOR MISS PETERSON

Miss Julia Johnson entertained a number of friends at her home Monday evening in honor of Miss Lavina Peterson who plans to leave soon for Kansas City, Mo. After a theater party the guests returned to the home of Miss Johnson where the remainder of the evening was spent in playing cards. Miss Peterson has been connected with the Quinn and Ramstad club for the past five years.

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, Sept. 6.—Any officer of the government who issues or causes to be issued "any illegal injunction, not in good faith and without intent" of depriving a person of his rights or intimidating him, would be held to have committed malfeasance in office under a bill introduced today by Representative Huddlestone, democrat, Alabama.

FLOWERS

Lacquered flowers, in black, white and in colors, are effectively used to trim hats and for corsage bouquets worn with georgette frocks.

CAPITOL THEATER

To the millions of theater-goers who enjoyed that greatest comedy-drama hit of the speaking stage in John Golden's presentation of "Turn to the Right," by Winchel Smith and John E. Hazard, and to the other millions who longed to see it, the news that this universally popular play has been transferred to the screen will prove a joyful notice.

This highlight of the stage characterized as "the play of mirth and morals," in its celluloid version is presented by John Golden and Marcus Loew and will be shown Monday at the Capitol Theater. It is a Rex Ingram production distributed by Metro Pictures, and the youthful director who won international fame for his wonderful screen portrayals of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" and "The Conquering Power" has added further laurels by this latest cinema offering.

Beauty Is but Skin Deep and Good Blood Is Beneath Both

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I want to make this public expression of what Dr. Pierce's medicines have done for me. Some years ago I was in a weak, run-down condition with neither strength nor ambition. A neighbor suggested that I take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I secured a bottle from the drug store and this was so helpful that I had no need of a second bottle. To those whose condition needs building up I can and do recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."—Mrs. Addie Hottell, 711 Buchanan St., N. E. New Ideas in Apparel and Smart Accessories for FALL

All women of fashion will be enthusiastic over these costumes of the moment. They reveal in their draperies and graceful panels, in their flair for fur and their elaborate, embroidered garnitures the telling touches of the famous designers. They have been assembled here from the foremost style centers everywhere and you are cordially invited to view them and to choose while selections are most attractive.

Street Frocks of Wool

You may slip into a one-piece frock at any moment's notice and yet it costumes you appropriately for most any occasion from a morning shopping tour to a week end trip. Here are shown a most handsome assemblage featuring the season's most fashionable weaves and colors.

Silk Frocks make their bow

Though crepe frocks hold first place among afternoon costumes of fashionable women, they are not resting on their laurels of other seasons. Making up for lack of variety in fabric there is much novelty in style and color. But you must see them and choose the very prettiest for yourself.

Tailored Suits Fur Trimmed

It is for you to decide whether your Autumn Suit will flaunt a flaring box jacket with wide sleeves or follow slim, crisp lines with long jacket. Fur trimmings lend richness to many, and one might add that a fur-trimmed suit may be worn throughout the winter.

Dress Wraps of Charming Style

And when the weather man predicts—"Colder tomorrow with wind shifting to northerly," you will be glad of the chance it will give you to draw one of these handsome Wraps close about you. Designed on straight, comfortable lines yet achieving a luxurious, wrappy effect is the beauty secret of these Fall designs.

Local Woman Drives Horse at State Fair

Mrs. H. M. Bryan of Bismarck was cheered by crowds at the Minnesota state fair races when she drove her own entry, says the St. Paul Pioneer-Press. The story of the race in which Mrs. Bryan drove was given as follows:

The interest and sympathy of the spectators in the 2:20 trot were centered on Mrs. H. M. Bryan of Bismarck, North Dakota, who drove her own entry, Rosaleaf. Rosaleaf was distanced, however, and the third heat found the North Dakota entry missing from the scoring. This race was won by Elskede, a Des Moines entry owned and piloted by Charles Hardle, which won the first and third heats and took Todd Hart's dust in the second. Captain Dick, driven by Brown of Plainview, Minnesota, made a bid for victory in the second heat but a good lead on the back stretch was eaten up when Henry Thomas let Todd Hart out. The best time of 2:09 1-4 came in the first and second heats.

Always Tired NO AMBITION

Nervous and Dizzy, Everything Seemed to Worry Me. How I Got Well

Larwill, Indiana.—"My back was so bad I could not do my washing. I was always tired out and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy and everything seemed to worry me and I had awful pains in my right side. I felt badly about four years and could not do my work as it should have been done. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised so much and it did so many people good that I began to take it myself. I am feeling fine now and every one tells me they never saw me looking so well. I live on a farm, do all my work, and have three little girls to take care of. I am recommending this medicine to my friends and know it will help them if they use it like I do." Mrs. HERBERT LONG, R. R. 8, Box 7, Larwill, Indiana.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort. They are always tired out and have no ambition. When you are in this condition give it prompt attention.

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it is especially adapted to correct such troubles, as it did for Mrs. Long.

RED SOX JOLT YANKS FROM THEIR POSITION

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Sept. 6.—Double barreled disaster at the hands of the Boston clubs, tail enders in both leagues, left the pennant prospects of the New York's clubs in a precarious condition today.

The Red Sox, a jinx most of the season to the Yankees jolted the American league champions from the lead with a double defeat 4-3 and 6-5, while St. Louis nosed out Cleveland, 10-9. The Braves gave the Giants a twin trouncing by scores of 6 to 0 and 4 to 2, and as Pittsburgh crushed the St. Louis Cardinals, 11 to 0, New York's lead over the Pirates was cut to four and a half games.

Yankee discards helped the Red Sox to make it 11 victories out of 18 games with the Yanks this season. Johnny Mitchell's homer in the first and Del Pratt's circuit clout in the second were blows that spelled defeat for Huggins' two pitching aces, Waite Hoyt and Joe Bush.

The Chicago Cubs tied St. Louis for third place in the National league by beating Cincinnati, 3 to 1. Detroit and Chicago White Sox split a double-header while Brooklyn and Philadelphia also divided honors in a twin bill.

Cy Williams of the Phillies made two home runs in the first game of the double-header with Brooklyn and Jack Peters, catching the second game for Philadelphia, duplicated the feat. Williams now has 34 in his string.

George Sisler, premier batter of the American league, kept closer to Ty Cobb's record for hitting safely in forty consecutive games yesterday when he brought his hitting streak to 35 consecutive games.

Carl Duff, recently obtained from Mitchell of the South Dakota League by the White Sox, made his first major league appearance in the Detroit after Ted Blankenship had been knocked out. He held the Tigers scoreless in the remaining six innings.

BIG TEN PRACTICE OPENS SEPT. 15

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 5.—Coach Bill Spaulding has sounded the call for the opening of the 1922 football season at the University of Minnesota and on Sept. 15, when the Big Ten practice season opens, more than 100 gridiron candidates will gather on historic Northrop field to prepare for a campaign which Gopher followers hope will bring Minnesota back among the leaders of the conference.

Around Captain Ollis Aas, center; Earl Martineau, star halfback, who is being hailed as the "Aubrey Devine of the 1922 season," and Birdie Larkin, veteran lineman, Coach Spaulding must construct his 1922 Gopher machine—"the fighting team of the west" he intends to make it.

A merry battle for first string quarterback berth is expected to develop, with four letter men and one new star fighting for the position. Cy Olson, Otis McKeery, Fred Grose and George Myrum, all veterans of the 1922 team, and E. G. Clark, a new man discovered in spring practice are out for the quarter's job and Coach Spaulding expects to have little trouble filling that post with a capable player.

Other letter men who will be back fighting for a place on the first team are Clinton Merrill, Charles Blumer and Ted Moyle, ends, with Ed. Copeland, Chester Gay and Paul Harp, linemen.

"Stuffy" Olson, a 200-pounder, who played a part of the 1922 season as guard, has run into scholastic difficulties but may become eligible. "Little Giant" Fred Oster, whom Coach Spaulding was planning to shift to fullback, has also tripped on the scholastic barrier, it was learned, but may clear up his record by the time school opens.

Louis Gross, star trackman, who gained attention as a football player at North high school, Minneapolis, has notified Spaulding he will report for practice. He is exceptionally shifty for a big man and is looked upon as a valuable first team timer.

Carl Schjoll, another track star, will also report, it was learned.

Luke Gallagher, Conrad Hanson, Lloyd Peterson and Gerald Swanson, members of last year's squad, will all return to add spice to the battle for line positions and a number of promising men will "come up" from the freshmen squad.

Ted Coy, a former St. Paul Central star, one of the biggest men out for spring practice, seems to have the ear for an end or line position on the varsity team and H. H. McDonald, rated by the coaches as one of the best linemen out for spring practice, is considered likely looking first team material. O. E. Sarff, C. M. Rollett, G. M. Abramson and Tom DeLoach are other members of the freshmen squad who are being groomed for varsity positions.

Ray Eklund, brother of Conrad Eklund, who can punt forty and fifty yards with consistency, is big, fast and shifty and looks like another sure first stringer. Minnesota opens her schedule with North Dakota at Minneapolis, Oct. 7.

SUBSCRIPTIONS COUNT DOUBLE THIS WEEK OVER-NEXT—ONLY 4 DAYS TO GET DOUBLE VOTES

List of Candidates and Vote Standings to Date Published Again.—The Rest of This Week to Be Most Exciting Period of Campaign as Votes on Subscriptions Count Double the Rest of This Week What They Will Next. Saturday Night Ends Largest Vote Offer of Entire Campaign.—Make These Few Days Left Pay Big by Getting Enough Subscriptions Before Saturday to Cinch Your Car.—Last Chance to Boost Your Standings.—Get All Your Friends, and Others, Before It Is Too Late

Don't let this chance of a lifetime slip by without doing all in your power to win one of these handsome cars that The Tribune is giving away absolutely free, to those who turn in the most subscriptions, before the 23rd of September, when the campaign closes. This week candidates can profit by the liberality of the vote offer which is twice as large as it will be next week. You can now get 2000 votes on a yearly sub, while after Saturday you can only get 1000, and the same holds good of two years and the one-half year subscriptions. A six month subscription now counts the same as a yearly subscription will count next week. Grab this opportunity to push your votes up among the leaders. Take advantage of the largest offer to be made during the campaign and cinch your car. Don't forget that this office will accept six months' subscription, get all you can. Turn everything in by this Saturday as other candidates who do not take advantage and depend on winning in the end will not have any show at all, since they will have to turn in twice the amount of subscriptions you do this period. Do all that you're going to do to win that car immediately, don't wait until the last thing or it will be too late. Turn in everything you can now while you get double credit, and the others won't be able to catch up with you.

LIST-AGAIN PUBLISHED

We are again publishing the list of entries to the Tribune's Grand Prize Distribution, and how they stand. Pick out your favorite and help him or her put it across. Give the candidate of your choice, your subscription now while it counts more. If you have given one year, give a second, and they will get more credit out of the 2nd year subscription. Candidates don't forget your Second Payments get all you can as this is one sure means of winning. Check up on your promises, and those who have already given one year.

Note how close all the candidates stand in the printed list, see how few subscriptions it would take to put you over the top, then get busy. Plenty of prizes are being given away, so take advantage of this wonderful offer and win one of them. No one has enough lead over anyone else to be sure of anything except the ten per cent cash commission. The stories that one hears of one candidate or another having a large lead are given out with the intention of dropping out so those who promulgate them will have more chance of winning. You can just figure anytime they want you to drop out it isn't because they have so much, but they are afraid of what you have. Stick it out and you will have the car of your choice very soon.

The following are the lists of votes collected up to Tuesday evening. These lists do not contain the club bonus votes but are accurate as to the candidate's positions in the race.

LINGERIE COLLARS

Lingerie collars and cuffs are going to be featured on the street frocks for fall. Attractive coat dresses in Polart will and piquet are apparently glad to have a little ornamentation of this nature.

ON COATS

Embroidery is used on fall coats in interesting ways. One of white

YELLOW

In London, lemon yellow is said to be the popular shade for summer frocks. Pink has been entirely neglected there this season, it appears.

DURING June, 1922, 271 thousand automobiles and trucks were produced as against 180 thousand cars in June, 1921, and 256 thousand cars in May, 1922. This is a new high record.

The estimated increase for 1922 in automobile registration for the 10 states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is 500,000, making a probable registration for this territory of 3,850,000 automobiles and trucks besides a largely increased number of tractors.

This means that the already enormous demand for petroleum products will be materially increased. To meet this demand requires unremitting effort on the part of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

When you look down the street and see the curb lined with automobiles, parked so closely that you have difficulty in finding space for your car, multiply what you see by hundreds of streets in hundreds of towns all over the Middle West and you will have a faint conception of the problem confronting the petroleum industry.

Next consider that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is performing without a hitch a large part of the job of supplying this multitude of machines with fuel. This is made possible by superb organization and by keen appreciation of human values in business.

The same spirit of progressiveness which is applied to refining methods, machinery, stills, storage depots, and to distributing units is also applied to the personnel of 26 thousand men and women all interested in carrying out the Company's policy of serving the public well.
